

Academic Appeals and Graduation

If a student submits an academic appeal following formal publication of their final results, they may either:

- a. Graduate at their planned ceremony with the award and classification as published in the final results. If the award or classification is changed on appeal, a revised certificate and transcript will be issued; or
- b. Defer their graduation to the next set of ceremonies following the resolution of their appeal. If the award or classification is changed on appeal, the revised award will be given at the ceremony.
